Business Type Breakdown

The top 15 business types across both areas. 'Other' (415) includes industrial, manufacturing, warehousing — a significant presence reflecting Archer Heights' industrial character. Retail (128) dominates in Burbank's Cicero Avenue corridor. Schools (60) and fast food (60) round out the top tiers.

Key Commercial Corridors

Cicero Avenue is the primary retail spine — ~2.5 million sq ft of retail GLA anchored by Burbank Station (303K sf, supermarket-anchored), Burbank Plaza (Jewel-Osco at 79th & Cicero), and the adjacent Ford City Mall (1.2M sf). Traffic counts at 79th & Cicero exceed 69,100 vehicles per day. The industrial base centers on the Clearing Industrial District and Bedford Park intermodal yards, connecting to the broader Chicago rail network.

Coverage Notes

Data sourced from OpenStreetMap with web enrichment via commercial real estate listings and municipal sources. The 1,218 figure represents OSM-mapped businesses only — the real total including unmapped small businesses is likely 2-3x higher. OSM data favors retail/chain businesses; residential services, home-based businesses, and very small shops are underrepresented.
